

ISO 22000

ISO Standard 22000 sets the requirements for a Food Safety Management System, establishing how companies can guarantee the safety of their foods at the point of human consumption. This standard aims to harmonise food safety management standards at a global level for all organisations in the food chain, and will be applied by all those organisations who promote a more focussed, coherent and integrated food safety management system than that usually specified in law.

PME EXCELÊNCIA 2020

SME Excellence status is assigned by Portugal's IAPMEI (Institute for the Support of Small and Medium Size Enterprises and Innovation) and Portuguese Tourism (in the case of tourism companies). It is a mark of reputation which allows highlighted companies to relate with those around them – suppliers, clients, financial systems and national or regional authorities – on a basis of confidently facilitating the development of their businesses. For companies interested in exporting on an international level, PME Excellence status is especially relevant, being both a differentiating factor and a guarantee of a company's sound and reputable nature.